Prayer of Confession: Lord Jesus Christ, we confess how easy it is to be drawn into worldly lifestyles, and we need Your constant help to make our behavior consistent with Yours. Forgive us when our words have been less than truthful. Forgive us for using anger to manipulate and to control. Forgive us when our actions have lacked total integrity. Forgive us when our words have been thoughtless and offhand. Renew us with Your Spirit so that our words and actions bring You pleasure and not pain. Fall afresh on us, O Holy Spirit, and make our lives true reflections of Jesus' life. We pray in the Name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

(Let us now have a moment of silence to offer our personal prayers of confession.)

I believe in the Holy Spirit; the holy catholic church; the communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins; the resurrection of the body; and the life everlasting. Amen.

Rev. Thomas Emery
“Get Rid of All Bitterness” Ephesians 4:25-5:2
Salem Presbyterian Church
August 9, 2015

We have growing up to do. All of us are born as babies. All our needs were satisfied. A baby screams and mother feeds him. If he is wet, his diaper gets changed. Everything revolves around the infant; he or she is the center of the world. Nothing was required of in return as a baby. An ideal world was necessary for our survival. One of the hardest tasks in growing up is accepting that we are not the axis around which everything and everyone revolves. We have to give up the “me first principle.” If we don’t, then we will let temporary anger and bitterness rob us of relationships. A Christian’s lifestyle is not about “what about me,” but life is all about “what about you.” As adults, we are to be “be kind to each other, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, just as God through Christ has forgiven you.”

TEACHING POINTS

Teaching Point 1: Angry people have no idea that their attitude is an offense against God.

Teaching Point 2: Rid ourselves of the spirit of this world.

Teaching Point 3: Being filled with the Spirit of Christ, we give thanks for everything.

THIS WEEK’S MEMORY VERSE

“<sup>31</sup> Get rid of all bitterness, rage, anger, harsh words, and slander, as well as all types of evil behavior. <sup>32</sup> Instead, be kind to each other, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, just as God through Christ has forgiven you.” (Ephesians 4:31-32 NLT)

ACTION POINT

Bitterness and anger can consume us and wreck our health if we do not convert that energy into godliness. Otherwise, we will miss some of life's finest blessings. If we are to live a new life and if we are to be new people, we must be aware of those emotions within us that must be kept under control. We must also focus our eyes on Christ who comes to us with love, forgiveness, mercy and grace. We must have our eyes open to the opportunities for service and witness through kindness, tenderheartedness and forgiveness directed toward the people that we meet. Life is not about “what about me” as a child, but life is all about “what about you” seeking to be like Christ.
