Rev. Thomas Emery
“Choose Life or Death” Deuteronomy 30:15-20
Salem Presbyterian Church
February 12, 2017

Moses was telling to the children of Israel the covenant he had received from God. Moses had no choice but to deliver to them a difficult message. The very existence of his people was at stake. In the midst of Moses' discourse, he says these important words: "I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death . . . Therefore choose life, that both you and your seed may live" (v19). Moses was saying that a time of choice was at hand, and the people of Israel could no longer be on both sides of the fence. They must make a choice. So, must we in our modern times, either follow Jesus or this world.

TEACHING POINTS

Point 1 – You make a choice when you refuse to choose.

Point 2 – Our identity is found in our closeness to God.

Point 3 – The choice to follow Christ is the most important one.

THIS WEEK’S MEMORY VERSE

<sup>15</sup>See, I set before you today life and prosperity, death and destruction. <sup>16</sup>For I command you today to love the Lord your God, to walk in his ways, and to keep his commands, decrees and laws; then you will live and increase, and the Lord your God will bless you in the land you are entering to possess. (Deuteronomy 30:15-16 NLT).

ACTION POINT

Deuteronomy is the first instance in the Torah to reveal a loving God and a God who invites our love back to Him. Choosing life, or choosing obedience to God, means choosing love. It is devotion to your God and love for each other, that is the basis of this new covenant. The chosenness of God’s covenanted people has nothing to do with their worthiness; it had everything to do with God’s unmerited mercy and commitment to the people of God. God choose to enter an outlandish relationship with the fractured, broken human creatures of his creation. Why? Because He is a God of love, who loves us. All we must do is love Him back. That is our “choice” now. Why not “choose life?”
