PASTOR'S THOUGHTS

If you love me, obey my commandments (John 14:15 NLT).

As I became a Christian, I was frustrated as to how I could possibly follow all those rules starting with the Ten Commandments and you know - the other ones that good church people do. Rules, rules, rules. I thought that being a Christian was hard as I couldn't be absolutely perfect in obeying all the rules. I later learned that God knew we couldn't keep them all. No one can keep them all, and Christ died to forgive us our sins, past, present and future to make us right with God if we seek repentance.

For instance, someone would ask me how their new trendy bright colored dress looked. Being polite in answering, I would not exactly speak the truth and would inwardly feel guilty. I didn't want to hurt the person with the truth. I would think about how Will Rogers once reflected, "Do you have friends, or do you tell people what you really think?"

On the other hand, I noticed that many in the church, knew very little of God's commands and teachings and did little to obey them. It's the same problem that reappeared in the New Testament over and over and throughout the ages. Paul wrote much about this in his epistles.

I soon realized that being a Christian, isn't just about rules, but it was about a loving relationship with God. When I sought to know more of God's commands, I realized that they don't weigh us down but, they actually lift us up and set us free from the captivity of sin. People measure love for others with their feelings. The love God desires isn't with feelings, but with obedience, and that obedience is for our own good.

As I matured in my faith, I realized that God's commands gave us guidance and the power to joyfully overcome our greatest tests in this world. That's why God wanted obedience; it was for our own good. Obedience isn't hard, but obedience is the best way. Obedience to God's commands keeps us in the narrow way for our own good. We also feel so much closer to God as we obey Him.

My Call

I walk a path, from God the call,
To stand up "straight," to stand up tall.
Unworthy am I to be His man,
To bring His Word to all I can??!

My hands were covered with sins for sure,
What load of weight, what curse to endure!
An infinite God, a finite man,
A stench to Him, how could I stand?

He called my heart then cleansed it so,
The price He paid - for blood must flow!
The Son on high, a King made flesh.
His death for man so He could bless!

A God, a man, one in the same,
Through death was death that He did tame.
What cord of death could hold Him down,
and keep from Him His Godly crown?

The Father, the Son, they knew it all,
the price to pay for our great fall.
The work He did, His blood would flow,
SO pure was He, it made us glow!

So now I stand and heed His call to be His servant and speak to all,
to tell the truth that washes stain,
His love for us does ever rain!

And Jesus came and said to them, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age." Matthew 28:18-20

"The Sermon on the Mount" Matthew Chapters 5-7

As you read Matthew's Gospel chapters 5-7, also known as "The Sermon on the Mount", know that you are reading the words of Jesus who was and is the greatest preacher who ever lived.

Jesus begins by calling attention to the sins of God's people. However, when you read His sermon, you must not walk away thinking, "I must turn the other cheek, love my enemies and pray for those who persecute me" in order to be accepted by God. In the same way, don't think "I must follow the Golden Rule perfectly" to be accepted by God.

We aren't accepted by God because of anything we do. We are accepted by God completely and totally because of a perfect Savior who has died a bloody death in our place and who has risen again in victory. Yes, we love our enemies and those who persecute us and we follow the Golden Rule. But we do these things, not to earn His acceptance, but because we have been accepted by God and we want to glorify Him in everything we do.

Jesus condemned the righteous attitudes of the Scribes and Pharisees (Jewish leaders of the time). What Jesus called for was not righteousness by human effort to show everyone how good we look, but an inner righteousness that shows how gracious and powerful God is.

To be "born again" is to be given a new heart by God. This is the work of the Holy Spirit - not us. This is what the remainder of Jesus' sermon is all about...

1) Exceeding righteousness must be evident in our attitudes. In chapter 5:21-48 Jesus says "You have heard it said...but I tell you..." Jesus explains what God really meant in giving us the 10 Commandments. The question we must ask is, "do we see those new attitudes in our lives?" "Is there genuine love, purity, integrity and holiness?"

2) Jesus said our exceeding righteousness should be evident in our desires. In chapter 6:1-18 Jesus refers to the behaviors of giving, prayer and fasting. He says we must do them in the right way. Jesus says yes, we give, pray and fast but we are to do them in a way as to not attract attention. We struggle with wanting man's approval but our ultimate desire should be God's recognition, regardless of what man says.

3) Evidence of exceeding righteousness concerns new relationships. In chapters 7:1-5 Jesus warns "do not judge so that you might not be judged." He is not telling us to overlook sin in one another, but consider your own sin before pointing out sin in others. And even when we do point out another's sin, it should be done with love, grace and humility. The bottom line is this: There should be something different about the lives of those who call themselves Jesus' disciples. Life in the kingdom will look different from life in the world. This is the exceeding righteousness Jesus speaks about. So do we see this difference in our lives? What about our churches?

Like every good preacher, Jesus puts us on the spot and calls us to respond. In chapter 7:13-14, Jesus says, "Enter through the narrow gate. For the gate is wide and the road is broad that leads to destruction, and there are many who go through it. How narrow is the gate and difficult the road that leads to life, and few find it." You are either on the narrow road that leads to eternal life or the broad road that leads to eternal destruction and death.

Jesus says the fruit is evident. In verses 15-23, He says one tree bears good fruit and one tree bears bad fruit. Either you have repented of your sins and Christ has changed your heart and you are producing love, joy peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness and self-control (Gal 5:22-23); or you are still trusting in yourself and rejecting Christ. Those in the latter category bring forth the works of the flesh (Gal 5:19-21).

The consequences are eternal. Jesus says the storm is coming. In verses 24-27, when the storm hits, one house will stand upon the Rock and one will crash in on itself. Jesus reminds us, it doesn't matter how well we've fixed up our house and how other's view it, if it's not founded upon the Rock, it's fall will be stunning!

Do you have a new heart? If not, God's judgment stands over you. The good news is, you can withstand the judgment of God as long as you are in Christ who has already been judged (Rom 8:3). Place yourself totally and completely in Him. Don't rest in yourself, rest wholly in the Savior. That is the Gospel!
