Call to Worship Psalm 24 491

Prayer of Confession: Holy God, as we come into the presence of Your divine holiness, we confess our many shortcomings. Our hands are not clean; our actions do not glorify You. Our hearts are not pure; our motivations do not glorify You. Our words are not true; our deceitfulness does not glorify You. Our allegiance is fickle; our idolatry does not glorify You. By your mercy, O God, give us hands that are clean, hearts that are pure, tongues that are true, and souls that worship You alone. May our whole lives glorify You. We ask these things in Jesus' Name. (Let us now have a moment of silence to offer our personal prayers of confession).

*Apostle's Creed: I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried; he descended into hell; the third day he rose again from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Spirit; the holy Catholic Church; the communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins; the resurrection of the body; and the life everlasting. Amen.

Rev. Thomas Emery
“Relationships Can Be Complicated” 2 Samuel 6:1-5,12b-19
Salem Presbyterian Church
July 11, 2021

When the Ark of the Covenant reached Jerusalem, the celebrations continued. Although the Levitical priests may have carried out the sacrifices, David, as the anointed king, gave a royal and perhaps priestly blessing to the people and humbly danced before the Ark. All who attended were given a gift, either as a natural part of the celebrations or as a shrewd political move to create good public relations. But viewing from a window, David’s wife, Michal, despised him, because in her eyes, he forgot his dignity by openly dancing. David’s point is that before God any status he might have was of no significance. He was willing to make himself as less than nothing if it would bring glory to the God who had chosen him, above Michal’s father and his family, as ruler over Israel. Royal status was not about being aloof from the people, but about serving God.

TEACHING POINTS

FIRST - Many people have the experience of Obed-edom, finding rewards that come from contact with Christianity. David noticed that the Ark blessed Obed-edom when kept at his house for three months.

SECOND - When we see a vision for God become a reality, our hearts are filled with joy.

THIRD - Relationships can be complicated and need the gospel as a foundation.

THIS WEEK’S KEY PASSAGE

¹⁵ So David and all the people of Israel brought up the Ark of the LORD with shouts of joy and the blowing of rams’ horns (2 Samuel 6:15 NLT).

ACTION POINT

Michal’s anger showed that she and David were following different visions. A relationship does not mean agreeing with or overlooking troublesome behavior, but it does mean trying to understand each other’s expectations. It says that where we feel those expectations are unreasonable, we talk about them and explain our feelings. And where we cannot agree, often we can live with our differences. Surely our world, our nation, our homes are filled with Obed-edom, people who receive the benefits of Christianity, though unbelievers. In all this, there is no room for complaint or resentment on the part of Christians. They only live out a principle of mercy that God has put into operation, and which Jesus asks that they follow. Therefore, Christians responding to the grace of God in Jesus Christ should expect that others become blessed by their Christian faith and their Christian life. That is a part of God’s plan for the world.
